REED COLLECTION 1900

CHISWELL-STREET, July 20, 1786.

MR. CASLON having at length completed, with infinite Attention and at an inconceivable Expence, a Plan, he has for some Years had in Contemplation, to improve the Beauty of Printing, by the Assistance of such TYPOGRAPHICAL EMBELLISHMENTS as should nearly equal COPPER-PLATES, and at the same Time be considerably more reasonable than the most contemptible WOOD-CUTS: He submits to the Candour of the World in general, and to his more immediate Patrons, literary and professional Gentlemen, in particular, a SPECIMEN of CAST ORNAMENTS; which, he is persuaded, will be found to answer a Variety of useful Purposes, and greatly to exceed every Thing of the Kind heretofore seen in this or any other Country.

The acknowledged Judgment of those, to whom this SPECIMEN is most particularly submitted, happily precludes Mr. CASLON from the disagreeable Necessity of minutely expatiating on the Utility of what he offers to their Attention; and he doubts not that the CHISWELL-STREET FOUNDRY will, as well in this as in all other Respects, enjoy the distinguished and unrivalled Favour with which it has for so many Years been invariably honoured.
